Description

The Department of Asian and North African Studies at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia invites applications for a fellowship in:

- Title: Feasibility study for the development of software for the evaluation of Chinese character writing on tablets
- SSD e/o settore concorsuale: L-OR/22;
- Responsabile scientifico e tutor: Prof.ssa Marcella M. Mariotti
- Durata: 12 mesi
- Abstract:

The aim of the project is to develop a more complete knowledge of the current studies on software for recognising the handwriting of Chinese characters, with a particular emphasis on the possible uses of such software in the teaching and learning verification field. Through consultations with scholars, including international scholars, connected to the research field, the feasibility of a software prototype for Italophones will be verified. Its possible applicability in teaching and study contexts will also be studied by means of field research in the Department.

The research may be carried out in English.

The fellowship is intended to provide the successful candidate with the opportunity to pursue his/her own research while benefiting from the range of expertise at Università Ca' Foscari Venezia.

Who can apply

Prospective candidates are expected to hold a master's degree and a CV suitable for the requested research activities.

Ca' Foscari encourages applications from researchers with positive evaluation in all the criteria in individual proposals such as Marie Skłodowska Curie Actions - Individual Fellowships/ERC Starting Grants/FIRB (Italian Fund for basic research investments)/SIR (Scientific Young Independence Research) or similar.
