Contemporary Perspectives on Chinese Philosophy

Workshop

October 27th-28th, 2011

Dipartimento di Studi sull'Asia e sull'Africa Mediterranea
Palazzo Vendramin dei Carmini - Dorsoduro 3462 Venezia

October 27th, 2.30 pm Sala A

Chair: Hans-Georg Moeller (University College Cork)

Carine Defoort (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven)
About Chinese Philosophy and taijiquan: the endlessly awkward question

Graham Parkes (University College Cork)
The Role of Practice in Confucius and Zhuangzi

Coffee break

Tiziana Lippiello (Università Ca' Foscari Venezia)
The perception of the other in early Chinese ethics

Carlo Natali (Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia)
A dangerous path. Comparing Greek philosophy and Chinese wisdom

October 28th, 9.30 am Sala A

Chair: Carine Defoort (Katholieke Universiteit Leuven)

Hans-Georg Moeller (University College Cork)
On the Notion of Qi in Chinese Philosophy

Attilio Andreini (Università Ca’ Foscari Venezia)
Some remarks on the nei 内- wai 外 “inner- outer” paradigm

Coffee break

Elisa Sabattini (Università degli Studi di Sassari)
“The people as root”: A contemporary question with ancient origins

Ester Bianchi (Università degli Studi di Perugia)
“Family scandals should not be spread outside” (Jiaochu bu dei wai yang 家醜不得外揚, Chanyuan qinggui, 4). Family ties, filiation and brotherhood in Chinese Buddhist disciplinary texts: A lexicon study