2. The research fellowship is awarded for the purpose of collaboration with the following research programme of the Department of Philosophy and Cultural Heritage:

- title Philological Approaches to Vernacular Aristotelian Texts in the Renaissance
- scientific disciplinary sector and/or disciplines specifically identified by the call L-FIL-LETT/13 M-FIL/06
- scientific coordinator and tutor Prof. Marco Sgarbi
- duration 36 months
- abstract The project aims to investigate the various philological approaches involved in the vernacularization of the Aristotelian texts in the Renaissance. The greater part of Aristotelian literature has come to us through manuscripts and various forms of printed editions. Any investigation of vernacular Aristotelianism requires a systematic investigation of scholars' philological activity in vernacularizing, that is the procedures in copying, emendations and other operations of textual criticism, and editions of a text, in order to assess the value of the vernacular Aristotelian texts. The task is to provide the description of the editing technique of the Aristotelian vernacular works. This study serves to establish whether humanists working on Aristotle in the vernacular were still textual scholars and critics, like fifteenth-century Latin humanists.

3. The selection aims to ascertain the scientific-professional requirements deemed necessary for carrying out the above research activities.

Art. 2 – Requirements for participation in selection procedure

1. Citizens belonging to European Union member states and non-community citizens in possession of the following qualifications may take part in the selection PhD and appropriate scientific-professional curriculum for the research pertaining to the programmes specified in the preceding article 1, in accordance with the university regulations for research fellowships.
