(ON-CAMPUS WEEK)

Revised version (21/10/2025)

28 September - 2 October 2026

Istituto Veneto per i Beni Culturali, Museo del Settecento Veneziano and Museo di Arte Orientale

(Preceded by a preparatory online activity on 25-26 May 2026)

1. OVERVIEW: ACTIVITIES AND OBJECTIVES

The Reverse Engineering and Digital Imaging: Early Modern Venetian Lacquer From Cultural Heritage to Material Culture Connected Community (CC) is a Ca' Foscari University of Venice-coordinated pioneering platform dedicated to experiential learning in material culture. By employing state-of-the-art technologies such as high-resolution 3D imaging and re-making practices similar to reverse engineering, it aims to revitalise the conservation of cultural artefacts while fostering an inclusive educational atmosphere.

Its 2026 activities will focus on lacquering, a variety of procedures for varnishing wood and leather artifacts with resins. The study of lacquered artifacts reveals intense and enduring processes of transfer and appropriation across Eurasia (Japan, China, the Ottoman Empire, and Venice). By appropriation, we mean both the successful circulation and “domestication” of complex techniques before twentieth-century globalisation, and the present rediscovery of these processes as a form of material culture that can be experienced, handed on through new media and questioned in its geopolitical implications and with respect to environmental and economic sustainability issues.

The EUTOPIA Re-making Early Modern Lacquer On-Campus Week and its preparatory online meeting are the core activities of this Connected Community. During the On-Campus Week in Venice (28 September - 2 October 2026), the participants will learn to lacquer *alla veneziana and familiarise themselves hands-on with this technique (re-making). They will also participate in activities such as 3D scanning and advanced measurement of selected seventeenth-century lacquered pieces kept in Venice, and visit the lacquer sections of the Museo di Arte Orientale and Museo del Settecento Veneziano of Venice together with specialists with different backgrounds (stakeholders from museums, conservation professionals, chemists, historians of art and design, media archaeologists and specialists in advanced measurement systems and 3D visualisation). Finally, the media produced during the On-Campus Week will feed the Community's dissemination activities until December 2026.

2. THE EUTOPIA NETWORK AND THE ORGANISERS

EUTOPIA Connected Communities are integrated thematic networks where teachers, researchers, professionals and students cooperate in cross-campus knowledge activities. They aim to strengthen existing good practices in challenge-based learning and research by creating inter-university connectedness. The partners of this Connected Community are professors Walter Cupperi (Lead, Ca' Foscari University), Marta Ajmar (University of Warwick), Miriam De Rosa (Ca' Foscari University), Francesca Caterina Izzo (Ca' Foscari University), Matej Klemenčič (University of Ljubljana), Renata Novak Klemenčič (University of Ljubljana), Sabrina Rastelli (Ca' Foscari University), Giorgio Tagliaferro (University of Warwick) and Mark Williams (University of Warwick).

Established in 2019, EUTOPIA is an alliance of ten European universities and six Global partners committed to developing a new model for integrated higher education institutions through transnational cooperation. The EUTOPIA MORE project (2022-2026) is an initiative proposed by the EUTOPIA alliance, which aims to foster institutional transformation based on principles of openness, inclusivity, and innovation.

3. PURPOSE OF THE CALL AND GENERAL REGULATIONS

 - b. A preparatory online activity on 25-26 May 2026 (introduction to the technique of lacquering, the historiography on this topic and the methodologies of the Connected Community);
 - c. Follow-up media activities to disseminate the results of the On-Campus Week (October-November 2026).
 - d. Curricular online open classes (optional but recommended) delivered by the three EUTOPIA CC partner universities on the main topics. These classes will target BA and MA students, starting from February 2026.
2. Recognition of the activities: At the completion of the three compulsory activities (art. 3.1.a., 3.1.b., 3.1.c.), all students will receive a EUTOPIA Micro-credential, corresponding to a workload of 75 hours and 3 ECTS, and certified through an Open Badge issued by UNIVE. As stated on the European Commission website, "micro-credentials certify the learning outcomes of short-term learning experiences, for example a short course or training. They offer a flexible, targeted way to help people develop the knowledge, skills and competences they need for their personal and professional development. [...] These opportunities are made available by a wide variety of public and private providers in response to the demand for more flexible, learner-centred forms of education and training."
Also, UNIVE students may request recognition of the Micro-credential (up to 3 ECTS/CFU) as part of their traineeship credits ("attività sostitutiva di tirocinio").
