The Cistern-System of Venice from the Twelfth Century to Today

David Gentilcore
The historical well-heads of Venice
Historical importance of rainwater harvesting in the Mediterranean area

Cistern in the cloister of the monastery of S. Francesco de Paola, Grottaglie (Puglia, Italy)

Source: P. Maranò, ‘Le cisterne per la raccolta dell’acqua piovana a Grottaglie’, Architetture nel buio, 2007
Importance of Venice historical case study

Source: Atlante della laguna (Venice 2015): http://cigno.atlantedellalaguna.it/maps/47/view
How Venetian rainwater cisterns worked

New student residence at San Giobbe, Ca’ Foscari University of Venice

The cisterns of Venice: Back to the future?