- Candidates must have an excellent academic record and hold a recent degree in Research & Development or Business areas.
- Applications will be accepted online at the HP Academy 2017 website until May 30th 2017.

Madrid, 6th April 2017. - HP and Fundación Universidad-Empresa \(FUE\) have joined efforts to find the best talent in Europe. The company, leader in technology, will offer two-year contracts in the areas of Research & Development and Business to fresh graduates selected through the “HP Academy 2017 \(R&D and Business Edition\)”. The main objective of this initiative is to recruit and train recent graduates with excellent academic records and no previous professional experience, and to offer the most outstanding candidates the opportunity to develop their professional career within the company.

The university graduates must prove their potential successfully completing different online tests. The 100 finalists will participate in the on-site final assessment at HP Barcelona headquarters during July.

This year's edition will include two types of profiles: R&D (Aeronautics, Chemistry, Computer Engineering, Electronic Engineering, Industrial Organization, Mathematics, Mechanical Engineering, Physics, and Telecommunications Engineering) and Business (Business Administration, Economics, Engineering, Marketing, Supply Chain Engineering or similar).

Candidates participating in the final selection process will receive up to 1000 Euros (depending on their place of residence) to help cover for living costs during the on-site final assessment, as well as a certificate of attendance and completion issued by HP and Fundación Universidad-Empresa.

All of the activities carried out during the assessment will be conducted in English by frontline experts and will include: workshops, seminars and conferences. The most outstanding candidates will be offered the opportunity to join HP with a two-year contract in a unique international environment, with continued training and development inside the company.

“HP Academy 2017 (R&D and Business Edition)” recruits specific profiles with an excellent academic record from different countries which will become in the future professionals of the company.

Interested candidates must have competences such as passion for technology, advanced communication in English, proactivity, organization, responsibility and interpersonal skills.

The selection process will be carried out by FUE. Applications will be accepted until May 30th 2017 on the “HP Academy 2017” website.
