Summer School in Classical Chinese and Japanese
July 4-29, 2022
The Ca’ Foscari - Princeton Summer School in Classical Chinese and Classical Japanese/Kanbun is unique in its kind. It offers two tracks of comprehensive, grammar-focused instruction which are designed especially for students who wish to develop their linguistic expertise for graduate study in any discipline of premodern China or Japan.

Both tracks are taught by the principal instructors of the classical language programs at Ca’ Foscari and Princeton. In addition to language classes, students will follow a lecture series on topics in premodern Chinese and Japanese culture (history, literature, thought). Both tracks welcome students who are beginners in Classical Chinese or Japanese, as well as those who already have some background foundation.

Dates: July 4 to 29 (4 weeks)

Location: Venice, Italy – Ca’ Foscari University, School for International Education (SIE)

Credits: 12 ECTS or equivalent of one full semester (80 classroom hours plus additional lectures)

Fees: € 1,300,00 (accommodation not included)

Programme directors: Professors Tiziana Lippiello (Ca’ Foscari University of Venice, Italy) and Martin Kern (Princeton University, USA)

Study options

Track A – Classical Chinese
The course provides the fundamentals of classical Chinese grammar through the reading and analysis of passages of pre-modern Chinese historical and literary texts.

Prerequisites: one year of modern Chinese language.

Track B - Classical Japanese/Kanbun
The course provides the fundamentals of classical Japanese and kanbun grammar along with readings in the major genres of pre-modern Japanese historical and literary texts.

Prerequisites: at least one year of modern Japanese language.

COVID Provisions
We expect to offer our Summer School on campus. Nonetheless, as the COVID-19 pandemic is ongoing, the School will continue to monitor the situation; should it prevent international travel or the confirmation of the program on campus as scheduled, other practicable solutions will be evaluated and proposed to applicants and confirmed participants.
