Abstract	The Venice School of Management is one of the partners of the CROSSMOBY Project, led by the Friuli Venezia Giulia Region. The objective of the project is to improve the quality and sustainability of cross-border mobility between Slovenia and neighboring Italian areas (Friuli Venezia Giulia and the Province of Venice). Actions will consist of the development of a new cross-border railway line connecting Trieste and Ljubljana and a new approach to mobility planning through the development of sustainable urban mobility plans in a number of pilot areas.
